I AM A VETERAN AND THIS IS MY VICTORY.

"My victory was overcoming my combat injuries and having a full life."

While serving in Vietnam, a land mine took both of Armando's legs. With help from DAV, he found the right support and learned that he can do anything. DAV helps veterans of every generation get the benefits they've earned –helping more than a million veterans each year in life-changing ways. Support more victories for veterans. Go to DAV.org.
